When do we play games

The first game starts the first Saturday in September, and continues each Saturday for a minimum of 8 weeks (9 weeks depending on game schedule). Games will be played on Labor Day and UEA weekend. Games will not be changed because the University of Utah is playing at the same time.

Saturday game times: 9:00 am, 10:30 am, 12:00 pm, 1:30 pm and 3:00 pm if needed.

When does Practice Begin

Practice may begin on the fifth Saturday prior to Labor Day (Changed for 2011 season). Each District may decide to start later than this date. Check with your district president for start dates. Any practices prior to the July 30, 2011 is a violation of the Ute Conference Bylaws and subject to disqualification and district sanction. First Contact practice is the Wednesday following the first Saturday in August.

What District do I play in

You play where you live. Your player will play in the high school district boundaries that you reside in. Example: If you live in the Highland High School boundaries, that is where you play. Only exception to this rule is Judge and Juan Diego . *Judge and Juan Diego boundaries are the State of Utah.

- No Waivers
- No Discussion

*1 year red shirt rules apply to move back to home district.

Players caught out of boundaries are subject to suspension. Coaches promoting players out of boundaries are subject to dismissal. Forfeitures of games will apply. No red shirt applies to Juan Diego for the 2010 season.

What equipment is provided

Each player will receive a helmet, shoulder pads, and game pants.

Some districts provide Jerseys that will be returned at the end of season. Other Districts provide jerseys each season as part of the registration fee.

Mouthpieces, socks, athletic supporters (w/cups), and football shoes are not supplied.

We agree to be fully responsible for the return of the items of equipment issued to the above named player. All equipment is to be returned in reasonable condition, with normal wear and tear when requested to do so by Conference or district officials, or pay the stated value of $260.00, plus all costs of collection Including a reasonable attorney fees plus interest.

Contact your district president for more details.

What is the minimum amount of plays my player can expect

What is the X Man Rule

The "X"-man Rule in the conference bylaws is presently written as follows:

13.1.4 After the official weigh-in, any player who exceeds the official weight limit for each team classification will be required to play as an interior lineman. As well as being designated on the player roster by an "X", he/she would also be required at all times to wear a 4-inch black or white "X", whichever is a contrasting color to the helmet, on both front and back of his/her helmet. As an interior lineman, the player is limited to play one of the front five line positions from tackle to tackle on the offensive team. This offensive lineman must be in a set position, but not necessarily in a down position. When playing defense, the "X" player must be placed as an interior lineman further from the ball than the outside shoulder of the offensive tackle, in a 3- or 4-point stance, and the player must be located within one yard deep from the line of scrimmage at the time of the snap. When participating on a kickoff or receiving team, the "X" player is limited to the front line play. No more than five "X" players will be allowed to participate at one time on each team.

ALL "X"-MEN-- The following criteria apply to ALL "X"-men:

1. All individuals listed on their teams' roster as an "X"-man, must have either a 4" White or Black "X" on the front AND back of their helmet. The Conference Board of Directors have also instructed the President's of each District to inform their Coaches to ONLY use Conference-purchased block "X's". Skull bones, decorations, colorings, numbers, names, writings, etc. are prohibited on the "X", and the "X" can NOT be made of Athletic tape, black electrical tape or anything other the Conference-provided "X".

What happens if I miss the Official Weigh In Official Weigh-In is conducted the second week prior to the first game.

Any player who misses the official weigh in is removed from the roster and is ineligible to play the first game. Players caught playing are subject to suspension and the game will be a forfeiture. Coach or coaches will be suspended.

A makeup weigh in will be the Tuesday after the 1st regular season game.

Contact District President for times and dates.

What do I wear to weigh in

Players are to wear shorts and t-shirts to weigh in. No Equipment!
